

EFIC-Grünenthal Grant supports young scientists

Apply for 2012 at www.e-g-g.info

Aachen, Germany, 29 March 2012. Young scientists from across Europe are invited to apply for the EFIC-Grünenthal Grant (E-G-G) 2012, one of the most highly regarded pain research grants worldwide. Provided by the European Federation of IASP[®] Chapters (EFIC[®]) and the pharmaceutical company and pain expert Grünenthal GmbH, this grant supports young scientists early in their career in conducting innovative and exploratory clinical pain research projects.

Grünenthal donates a total of € 200,000 for the biennial grant, which is shared between the awarded scientists and is intended to support them early in their career. The individual grants are valued at up to € 40,000 per project for a duration of up to two years. The decision of the awards is made independently by the EFIC[®] Committee on Research.

Interested young scientists can submit their research projects online at: www.e-g-g.info until the end of 2012.

About EFIC[®]

The European Federation of IASP[®] Chapters (EFIC[®]) is a multidisciplinary professional organisation in the field of pain research and medicine, consisting of the 35 so-called chapters of the International Association of the Study of Pain (IASP[®]), which are the IASP[®] approved official pain societies in each country. Established in 1993, EFIC's constituent chapters represent pain societies from 35 European countries and close to 20,000 scientists, physicians, nurses, physiotherapists, psychologists and other healthcare professionals across Europe, who are involved in pain management and pain research.
